Independent Living

Our independent living apartments offer a comfortable, maintenance-free retirement lifestyle within a welcoming community (locally known as St John the Baptist Retirement Community).

With us, you have the freedom to be as independent and active as you like. Relax in the privacy of your own home or take advantage of the many social activities on offer — the choice is yours.

Your fully self-contained, one- or two-bedroom, private accommodation includes modern finishes, air-conditioning and a 24-hour emergency call system with pendants. Enjoy peace of mind knowing that assistance is available, if required.

Let us also remove the stress associated with home maintenance. Sit back and relax as we coordinate regular maintenance of the grounds and common garden areas, external cleaning, and building upkeep.

Community Living

Many of our independent living residents also take advantage of our community living services. These services, which are available throughout Brisbane, provide valuable assistance within your own home to help you maintain your lifestyle and independence.

Whether it's lending a hand with day-to-day chores, organising visits to or from health professionals, or simply sharing a cup of tea and an enjoyable chat, we are here for you. We are here to make life easier for you and your family.

We take the time to get to know you, and will work closely with you to discuss options and develop a personalised care plan to achieve the goals you set.
